6:15PM-7:15PM: Industry Workshop

SPOTLIGHT: Finance, Insurance and Distribution Panel

An independent filmmaker needs to raise the money they need to produce their films without the backing of Hollywood studios—how do they find it? Insurance requirements are different for each type of film. A movie with lots of action sequences with special stunts may cost more to insure than one without them so how does all this work? When a film is complete, a filmmaker's primary goal it to get their work seen by audiences, so they find ways to distribute their film from film festivals to Free Ad Supported Television (FAST) streaming opportunities. Which is best? Learn from a select group of panelists who will answer these questions and discuss these important components of filmmaking.

The lauded JUNO-nominated blues-rock artist hails fro m Southern Ontario and has steadily earned accolades, and the attention of blues aficionados from around the World. Leaving nothing behind when he steps to the stage, Mackenzie offers showgoers a powerhouse performa nce, commanding his guitar with sophistication and prowess beyond his years.

Upon the release of his third studio album, Preach To My Soul tears from the speakers with grit and gusto. Spencer wears his influences on his sleeve, channelling his reverence for the bluesmen who came before him into the title track. Though many before him have wielded six strings, few can make them sing. Pairing a crisp, clean tone with throaty, rich vocals, Spencer channels the s pirit of the Delta, conjuring emotive performances with hair-raising effect.

Stepping into 2023 with numerous Canadian, US and European dates planned, the left-handed guitar slinger sh ows no signs of slowing down. In his short career, he has proven he can captivate audiences and hold the stage l ike a seasoned veteran.
