COVID-19 and Your Workplace: Reduced Workforce Needs

Date and Time: Thursday, October 1 8:30 am - 9:30 am

Address: Webinar

As is becoming evident the economic recovery from COVID-19 will vary significantly between industries and sectors of the economy. For many, recovery will be a slow process. As the same time, government subsidy programs are being wound down. As a result as summer turns into fall many employers will need to adjust their workforces. This webinar will address the options that are available to employers such as leaves of absences, temporary layoffs, inducements and terminations.

The Hissing Folly by Cole Swanson

Date and Time: Thursday, October 1 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 143 Simpson Avenue, Bowmanville, Ontario, L1C 2H9

The Hissing Folly looks at Durham Region's ecological landscape and poses critical questions around human relationships with invasive species, specifically phragmites (European common reed). Phragmites is a perennial grass that spreads quickly and out-competes native species for water and nutrients. Using the centuries-long tradition of thatching, the resulting construct is a folly; designed primarily for decoration, while suggesting a greater purpose through its appearance.

Please visit our website before you come to see us learn more about what protocols and guidelines we are asking our visitors to follow in order to keep everyone safe and comfortable.

Erika DeFreitas: an object, a gesture, a scene (II)

Date and Time: Thursday, October 1 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 143 Simpson Avenue, Bowmanville, L1C 2H9

Thinking through the dichotomy of absence and presence, Erika DeFreitas continues a body of work that responds to two cloaked public sculptures encountered by the artist. DeFreitas explores the notions of what remains, what is suggested, and the possibilities that lie in ambiguity. The works shown at the Visual Arts Centre of Clarington will include a series of new and existing works in the form of works on paper, video, and photography.

COVID-19 and Your Workplace: Terminations during the Pandemic (AJPBOT)

Date and Time: Thursday, October 8 8:30 am - 9:30 am

Address: Webinar

There are a variety of reasons to decide to terminate an employment relationship at this time. It may be that the pandemic caused for an employment position to be eliminated or caused for you to realize a certain position was unnecessary. It may be that a decision to terminate an employment relationship had been made prior to the pandemic and you now wish to move forward with the termination. Whatever the reason, prior to dismissing an employee, employers must take the time to properly understand the entitlements that are being triggered. For example, it is possible that the pandemic may have substantially increased the employee's entitlements. However, it is also possible that the employee is entitled to nothing, as a result of a job abandonment, a resignation, or the legal concept of frustration.

For this complimentary webinar, we will address handling employment terminations during the pandemic and alternative options.

The Hissing Folly by Cole Swanson

Date and Time: Friday, October 9 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 143 Simpson Avenue, Bowmanville, Ontario, L1C 2H9

The Hissing Folly looks at Durham Region's ecological landscape and poses critical questions around human relationships with invasive species, specifically phragmites (European common reed). Phragmites is a perennial grass that spreads quickly and out-competes native species for water and nutrients. Using the centuries-long tradition of thatching, the resulting construct is a folly; designed primarily for decoration, while suggesting a greater purpose through its appearance.

The Hissing Folly by Cole Swanson

Date and Time: Sunday, October 18 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 143 Simpson Avenue, Bowmanville, Ontario, L1C 2H9

The Hissing Folly looks at Durham Region's ecological landscape and poses critical questions around human relationships with invasive species, specifically phragmites (European common reed). Phragmites is a perennial grass that spreads quickly and out-competes native species for water and nutrients. Using the centuries-long tradition of thatching, the resulting construct is a folly; designed primarily for decoration, while suggesting a greater purpose through its appearance.

Please visit our website before you come to see us learn more about what protocols and guidelines we are asking our visitors to follow in order to keep everyone safe and comfortable.

Erika DeFreitas: an object, a gesture, a scene (II)

Date and Time: Sunday, October 18 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 143 Simpson Avenue, Bowmanville, L1C 2H9

Thinking through the dichotomy of absence and presence, Erika DeFreitas continues a body of work that responds to two cloaked public sculptures encountered by the artist. DeFreitas explores the notions of what remains, what is suggested, and the possibilities that lie in ambiguity. The works shown at the Visual Arts Centre of Clarington will include a series of new and existing works in the form of works on paper, video, and photography.

Succeeding in a new reality: Plan your way out of the COVID-19 crisis

Date and Time: Tuesday, October 20 1:00 pm

Address: Webinar

The COVID-19 confinement has completely changed consumer habits, leading to one of the worst economic crises in history. What does this mean for Canadian entrepreneurs?

To find out, BDC surveyed 1,000 business owners and 2,000 consumers in Canada to better understand:

- How the crisis is changing Canadians' habits
- What the country's entrepreneurs are doing to adapt

As part of BDC's Small Business Week, join us for an interactive session with BDC's Chief Economist, Pierre Cl  roux. In addition to answering your questions live, he will provide a brief economic outlook and share key insights from BDC's new study, The Response: How Entrepreneurs Are Adapting to the Pandemic.

Business Survival During COVID Times

Date and Time: Wednesday, October 21 10:00 am - 11:00 am

Address: Webinar

Presented in partnership with South Lakes Futures, Teresa Shaver of the Business Advisory Centre Durham will talk about strategies for doing business during and after COVID.

COVID-19 has likely changed our world forever and as businesses we will need to adapt to the changes if we want to thrive in these uncertain times.

Pivoting is not new, Starbucks started out selling espresso machines and coffee beans in the early 70's and then realized that there was a large opportunity they were missing to provide coffee in a Eurostyle coffee house. Businesses need to be innovative, creative and pivot their businesses to stay relevant, adapt to changing technologies, ways of doing business and communicating with their customers.

Over the last few years, BACD has been working with our businesses to help them automate and integrate software, business processes and business models so that they can potentially scale their business, deliver service online, provide customers a way to engage online with their business or have a flexible lifestyle business.

We will work through:

- Refining your value proposition
- Problem solving and creating new solutions
- Fulfilling a gap, finding new ways of delivering services
- Adding revenue models
- And other ideas.

The Hissing Folly by Cole Swanson

Date and Time: Saturday, October 24 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 143 Simpson Avenue, Bowmanville, Ontario, L1C 2H9

The Hissing Folly looks at Durham Region's ecological landscape and poses critical questions around human relationships with invasive species, specifically phragmites (European common reed). Phragmites is a perennial grass that spreads quickly and out-competes native species for water and nutrients. Using the centuries-long tradition of thatching, the resulting construct is a folly; designed primarily for decoration, while suggesting a greater purpose through its appearance.

Erika DeFreitas: an object, a gesture, a scene (II)

Date and Time: Saturday, October 24 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 143 Simpson Avenue, Bowmanville, L1C 2H9

Thinking through the dichotomy of absence and presence, Erika DeFreitas continues a body of work that responds to two cloaked public sculptures encountered by the artist. DeFreitas explores the notions of what remains, what is suggested, and the possibilities that lie in ambiguity. The works shown at the Visual Arts Centre of Clarington will include a series of new and existing works in the form of works on paper, video, and photography.
